The Need for 45-Day Ballot Transit Time

The most persistent problem which continues to face Minnesota military and overseas voters is the extremely short period of time these voters have to receive, vote, and return their absentee ballots in order to be counted. While electronic transmission of election materials offers an alternative to inadequate ballot transit time in emergency situations, the fact is that insufficient ballot transit time through the mail remains the primary obstacle to ensuring timely delivery of absentee ballots to all who request them. Our post-election surveys and Postal Service statistics indicate that a 45-day transit time is needed for absentee ballots sent through international mail or the military APO/ FPO (overseas) post offices. This round trip transit time is especially necessary because of the remote location of many military personnel and overseas citizens such as sailors and marines aboard ship, airmen and sailors at isolated tracking sites around the world, as well as State Department personnel and citizen employees of American multinational corporations in remote areas.

For all elections, the official charged with the printing and distribution of ballots and election materials shall print as many absentee ballots as may be necessary as soon as possible after receiving the information concerning candidates and measures to be voted on at an election, and balloting materials shall be mailed not later than the 45th day before the election.

Late Registration Procedures

We recommend that Minnesota allow persons recently separated from the Uniformed Services or overseas employment and their family members to register late or be exempt from registration. Many of these citizens go through a transition period when they first leave the Uniformed Services or overseas employment and may reside in your state just prior to an election and this time frame does not meet your state's normal residency requirements. Often, the date of discharge or termination of overseas employment and a state's registration requirement combine to disenfranchise a discharged military member or overseas citizen returning home after employment abroad. Special procedures to allow these persons to register and vote would solve this problem. Twenty-six states currently allow such procedures.

Sample Language

An individual, or accompanying family member who has been discharged or separated from the Uniformed Services, the merchant marine, or from employment outside the territorial limits of the United States, too late to enable him or her to register by the regular state deadline for registration, shall be entitled to register for the purpose of voting at the next ensuing election after such discharge, separation, or termination of employment.

Notary Requirement

We realize notarization of the FPCA and the ballot return envelope is not necessary if a voter provides his/her military ID number or passport number. However, if a voter overlooks this requirement or if he or she is unable to obtain notarial services, he or she may be disenfranchised. The notary requirement creates problems for individuals living overseas where such services are difficult and expensive, if not impossible, to obtain. Some voters have paid $90 to obtain notarial services. In many countries, there are no notaries in their system of jurisprudence. Also, some small military installations may have no commissioned officer assigned. We recommend removal of the notary requirement for all absentee balloting materials. Forty-nine states have eliminated the notary requirement on all election materials to date.

If a voter residing outside the United States or a member of the United States Uniformed Services, merchant marine, or a family member, and he or she is a qualified elector and is required to execute an affidavit or form for voter registration or an absentee ballot, he or she may subscribe to a self-administered oath, under penalty of perjury.

State Write-In Absentee Ballot

We also recommend Minnesota provide a state write-in absentee ballot for all elections. The purpose of the state write-in absentee ballot is to provide a method for voting by military and other persons overseas who, due to military contingencies or special circumstances such as those faced by submariners, Peace Corps volunteers, missionaries or others in remote areas, will be out of communication for extended periods of time and unable to receive regular absentee ballots sent in the normal time frame. A voter could request a state write-in ballot 90 days in advance and write in the names of the candidates or party preferences. The voter knows in advance that he or she will not be able to receive, vote, and return the regular absentee ballot in time to be counted. Twenty-seven states now provide state write-in absentee ballots.

This state write-in ballot should not be confused with the Federal Write-In Absentee Ballot (FWAB) that is prepositioned at Embassies and Consulates, military installations, overseas organizations and corporations. In comparison, the FWAB is generally only available to military stationed overseas and overseas citizens who have already applied for a regular absentee ballot. They do not know in advance that they need the FWAB. However, if the regular absentee ballot from the state does not arrive in sufficient time for the voter to return the voted ballot and meet the state deadline, these voters may obtain, vote, and return the FWAB to the local election official.

It is also important to note that a state write-in ballot usually provides a “full” slate of offices to be voted upon including Federal, state, and local offices. On the other hand, the FWAB generally allows voting for Federal offices. There are presently seven states beyond Federal law that have expanded the use of the FWAB and the 1995 revised FWAB was designed to accommodate its use beyond the general election and Federal offices only.

If the voter is a U.S. citizen residing outside the United States, or a member of the United States Uniformed Services, merchant marine, or a family member, and a qualified elector, he or she may request, not earlier than 180 days before an election, a state write-in absentee ballot. The voter must submit with the request a statement that provides that due to military or other contingencies that preclude normal mail delivery, the elector cannot vote an absentee ballot during the normal absentee voting period. The state will make the ballot available "90 to 180" days before the election.

Electronic Transmission of Election Materials

Since the 1990 general election, electronic transmission has proven to be a valuable alternative method for facilitating the enfranchisement of military persons serving their country who may have otherwise been unable to vote. This initiative has helped to ensure that these citizens were not disenfranchised by allowing them to cast a ballot when they would not otherwise have been able to vote due to time and location constraints.

Throughout an election year cycle, various circumstances exist that require the need for this alternative procedure in order for citizens to vote. The basic concept of electronic transmission of election materials is to secure high-speed delivery of election materials to and from the voter and local election officials. Your support in developing the acceptance of electronic transmission for all aspects of the process, with proper controls, would cut the ballot transit time at least in half. This would reduce the major obstacle to voting absentee and allow local election officials more administrative flexibility in preparing election materials.

Consideration should be given to expand the use of modern technology in the absentee voting process. We realize Minnesota has enacted legislation to provide for electronic transmission of the FPCA for ballot request. We encourage expanded use of this alternative to include electronically sending the ballot to the voter and accepting the voted ballot electronically from the voter where circumstances would otherwise disenfranchise a citizen.

Sample Language

An applicant who is a member of the United States Uniformed Services, merchant marine, a family member, or is a qualified elector living outside the United States, may apply for registration and an absentee ballot by electronic transmission if otherwise qualified to apply for and vote by absentee ballot. An auditor or clerk may send and receive absentee ballot applications and accept voted ballots from eligible electors via electronic transmission.

Enfranchise Citizens Who Have Never Resided in the U.S.

There are many U.S. citizens who have never resided in a state and under current law are not entitled to vote. These are usually first or second generation citizens who are subject to U.S. income tax and all other requirements of citizens. Except for the fact that they have never resided in a state, they would be eligible to vote in elections for Federal office. Some local election officials make exceptions and allow these citizens to vote. Thirteen states have passed legislation allowing these citizens to claim the legal residence of a parent. We recommend these citizens be allowed to vote in elections for Federal offices where either parent is eligible to vote under UOCAVA.

Sample Language

If a U.S. citizen outside the United States who has never lived in the United States has a parent who is a qualified elector, then that person is eligible to register and vote where his or her parent is a qualified elector.

Emergency Authority for Chief Election Official

During a period of a declared emergency or other situation where a short time-frame for ballot transmission is created, it is recommended that Minnesota's Chief Election Official have the authority to designate alternate methods for handling absentee ballots to ensure voters have the opportunity to exercise their right to vote. The Chief Election Official and the Federal Voting Assistance Program could establish expeditious methods for handling absentee ballots including electronic transmission.

Sample Language

If a national or local emergency or other situation arises which makes substantial compliance with the provisions of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act impossible or unreasonable, such as a natural disaster or an armed conflict involving United States Armed Forces, or mobilization of those forces, including State National Guard and Reserve components of this state, the Chief Election Official may prescribe, by emergency orders or rules, such special procedures or requirements as may be necessary to facilitate absentee voting by those citizens directly affected who otherwise are eligible to vote in the state.

The Chief Election Official shall adopt rules describing the emergency powers and the situations in which the powers will be exercised.
